A Divine Reflection

INTRODUCING A GROUNDBREAKING NEW PROJECT THAT EXPLORES
WHY FAMILY STILL MATTERS IN TODAY'S SOCIETY.

"Focus on the Family is launching The Family Project to explore the irreplaceable role and design of family. This project will include a groundbreaking documentary and a 12 part curriculum series that will not only show us just how important the preservation of family is, but will transform the way we see ourselves and show us just how important family is, not just to the Christian world view, but to the survival of society."

SISARICH
Host of Irreplaceable

The breakdown of the family has made an impact on virtually every segment of society. Divorce, abuse, abandonment, addictions, poverty – all of these can be tied to the disintegration of the family. But there is hope in the Gospel of Jesus Christ and in God's blueprint for the family. The solution to so many of our society's ills can be found in a wholehearted investment in stable, healthy families.

The Family Project will help Christians unpack the critical role of family within a Biblical world view, and will offer practical tools to enable them to clarify and live out those beliefs so that they can become a better mother, father, sister or brother.

Now, more than ever, families need the power and inspiration of Biblical influence to become a catalyst in healing the culture.

WHY STRONG FAMILIES MATTER

The world around us is constantly changing, causing confusion over the definition of a "normal" family. No family is ever perfect – in fact, they are as varied and unique as the people within them. However, experience tells us that building traditional, nuclear families – those made up of a married mom and dad in the home with their children – is the best way to raise happy, healthy, resilient kids with a firm spiritual foundation and a strong relationship with Christ.

THE PROFOUND IMPACT OF BIBLICAL FAMILIES

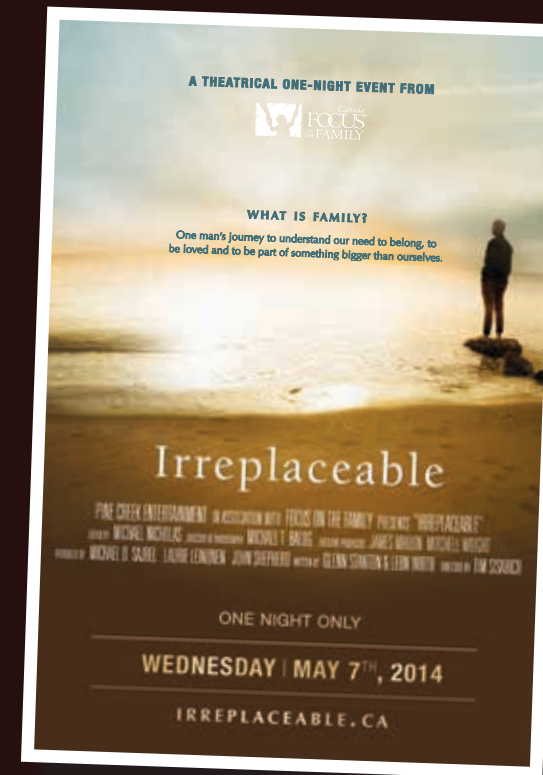

The fullest illustration and living expression of God's nature, image and story is His design for family. Now, more than ever, families need the power and inspiration of Biblical influence to become a catalyst in healing the culture. This amazing study is poised for global impact, changing hearts and minds with the power of God's Word and elevating the family as the foundation for a thriving culture.

IRREPLACEABLE DOCUMENTARY

Irreplaceable follows one man as he journeys around the world to discover why all humans have a yearning to be in a family, to be part of something bigger than themselves. This documentary will encourage Christians to more closely examine the family as a revelation of the nature of God and to inspire them to begin small groups in their communities to study why family matters and what they can do to change families in Canada for the better.
